Factual Background

Julia's legal system is currently stagnant due to various factors, though only one is relevant to this judgment, The lack of court elections. However, one factor of this has been the lack of elections for the court. That is the stance of this. The last election was once more skipped. While I was not here this is in part due to the fact that the MOR and more specifically, the Election Board did not hold the elections. This is a matter that needs to be fixed, The issue can not be kicked down the road any longer and it is with that in mind, I will be issuing this order from the court to ensure the elections are held. With that, I will be ordering the elections to be held by the MOR as specified within the Judgment.

Grounds For Judgement

The two main questions of this Judgement are 1. Can I do this as a lower court Judge? And 2. Can Judges force an election to happen? Question 1 Is a lot simpler to answer so I'll start with that. Yes, I can Article 4.8 states "Judges may issue judicial orders in relation to cases and matters relevant to them, which authorize or order compliance with certain measures and must be carried out by the person or entity to whom they are issued." This as well would also apply to lower court Judges as the word used states "Judge" not Justice. This distinction means that lower court judges are allowed to make orders.

Question 2 is next, the main thing that needs to be looked at here is that something was meant to happen. The MOR was meant to hold elections and the Administration failed at doing so. The intent behind this failure is irrelevant; what matters is ensuring compliance with constitutional requirements. What is important is that they are held to the standard of holding the elections. Article 4.8 also states that orders may be given to be given in order to ensure compliance with the law .In this case, compliance with the Constitution is paramount. While the original election deadlines have passed, the elections themselves can and must still be held. As such, to make sure the current administration is doing what it can to be compliant with the constitution.

Judgment

The MOR must hold the elections for the court as per the constitution with the exception of the dates. The start date will instead be at 00:00 CET on the 21st and end on the 22nd 00:00 CET.
